OBITUARY

Lane was born in Albuquerque, New Mexico, to Dayle Costales and Alonzo Costales. He spent his early years in Albuquerque before moving to Colorado, where he attended high school in Aurora. Later in life, Lane settled in South Dakota, where he made his home for more than two decades. Lebanon, South Dakota, held a special and lasting significance for Lane and his family. The property there carries deep generational ties, as Lane and his family are descendants of the Weatherer family, whose roots in Lebanon and the surrounding area date back to 1915. That history and connection to the land made Lebanon not just a place to live, but a place of belonging and continuity.

Lane was a builder by nature—of things, of ideas, and of relationships. He co-owned and lovingly worked on The Trail Motel in Gettysburg, dedicating countless hours to restoring, improving, and caring for the property. He took great pride in the work and was deeply invested in its future, often looking ahead with excitement and vision. Above all, Lane loved his family.

Lane loved the outdoors and found peace in nature. He especially enjoyed camping and boating, most often alongside his closest friend, Dan Trudo, with whom he shared countless meaningful moments. He also loved spending time at the local saloon, where he enjoyed playing games with friends, watching sports, and placing the occasional bet. A devoted sports fan, Lane had a love for NASCAR, basketball, and football, and rarely missed an opportunity to follow the action.

Lane's life was marked by growth, resilience, and faith. Through life's many seasons, he found strength in his relationship with God and lived with quiet determination and humility. He had a thoughtful nature, a generous heart, and a deep appreciation for simple moments of beauty—especially a good sunrise or sunset. He enjoyed photography as a way to capture those moments. Lane was preceded in death by his father, Alonzo Costales, and his sister, Jolee, both of whom passed at a young age. It is a comfort to those who loved him to know they are reunited once again.

Lane is survived by his mother, Dayle; his sister, Kineta; his niece Cassandra and her husband, Danny; his nieces Emily, Stephanie, and Alexis; his nephew Aaron; and his great-niece Raelyn. He is also survived by many loving cousins and extended family from the Joseph Costales side, as well as his beloved dog, Grace, his constant companion who was rarely far from his side.

Lane will be remembered for his faith, his perseverance, and the love he gave freely to others. He will be deeply missed by all who knew and loved him.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING — WISDOM 3:1–9

A reading from the Book of Wisdom

The souls of the just are in the hand of God, and no torment shall touch them.
They seemed, in the view of the foolish, to be dead; and their passing away was thought an affliction and their going forth from us, utter destruction.
But they are in peace.
For if before men, indeed, they be punished, yet is their hope full of immortality;
Chastised a little, they shall be greatly blessed, because God tried them, and found them worthy of himself.
As gold in the furnace, he proved them, and as sacrificial offerings he took them to himself.
In the time of their visitation they shall shine, and shall dart about as sparks through stubble;
They shall judge nations and rule over peoples, and the LORD shall be their King forever.
Those who trust in him shall understand truth, and the faithful shall abide with him in love:
Because grace and mercy are with his holy ones, and his care is with his elect.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM — PSALM 23

R/. The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.
in verdant pastures he gives me repose;
Beside restful waters he leads me;
he refreshes my soul.
He guides me in right paths
for his name sake. R/.
Even though I walk in the dark valley
I fear no evil; for you are at my side
With your rod and your staff that give me courage. R/.
You spread the table before me
in the sight of my foes;
You anoint my head with oil;
my cup overflows. R/.
Only goodness and kindness follow me
all the days of my life;
And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord
for years to come. R/.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

SECOND READING — 1 THESSALONIANS 4:13-18

---

A reading from the first letter of Paul to the Thessalonians

We do not want you to be unaware, brothers and sisters, about those who have fallen asleep, so that you may not grieve like the rest, who have no hope.

For if we believe that Jesus died and rose, so too will God, through Jesus, bring with him those who have fallen asleep.

Indeed, we tell you this, on the word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will surely not precede those who have fallen asleep.

For the Lord himself, with a word of command, with the voice of an archangel and with the trumpet of God, will come down from heaven, and the dead in Christ will rise first.

Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air.

Thus we shall always be with the Lord.

Therefore, console one another with these words.

GOSPEL — JOHN 19:17-18, 25-39

A Reading from the Holy Gospel According to John

Jesus said to his disciples:

“Do not let your hearts be troubled. You have faith in God; have faith also in me. In my Father’s house there are many dwelling places.

If there were not, would I have told you that I am going to prepare a place for you?

And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back again and take you to myself, so that where I am you also may be. Where I am going you know the way.”

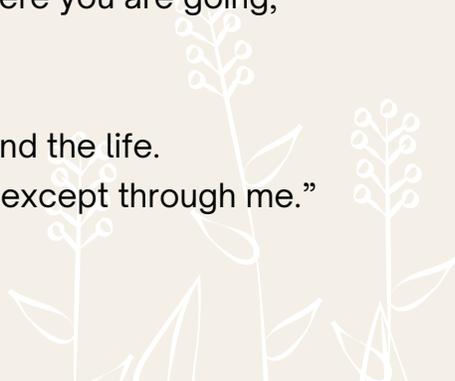

Thomas said to him,

“Master, we do not know where you are going; how can we know the way?”

Jesus said to him,

“I am the way and the truth and the life.

No one comes to the Father except through me.”

EXCERPT FROM A LETTER TO THE PHILIPPIANS
BY SAINT POLYCARP

He who raised him from the dead will raise us too if we do his will and keep his commandments, loving what he loved, refraining from all wrongdoing, fraud, avarice, malice and slander. We must abstain from false witness, not returning evil for evil, nor curse for curse, nor blow for blow, nor denunciation for denunciation.

Always remember the words of the Lord, who taught: Do not judge and you will not be judged; forgive and you will be forgiven; be merciful and you will find mercy; the amount you measure out to others will be the amount measured out to you.

Blessed are the poor and those who suffer persecution, for theirs is the kingdom of God.
